"I think I have a singular right to speak for the administration, faculty, and students of Memorial High since I have been associated with Mr. Bronstein in education for forty years, from the time he began his teaching career at Manchester Central High in 1932.

As Memorial's only principal since its opening in 1960, Mr. Bronstein's concern for the school was always a priority. His guidance and sympathy for the students and their futures has helped to make Memorial richer. On the occasion of his retirement, we wish him every success for the future. At Memorial, he is not going to be replaced; he is going to be succeeded."

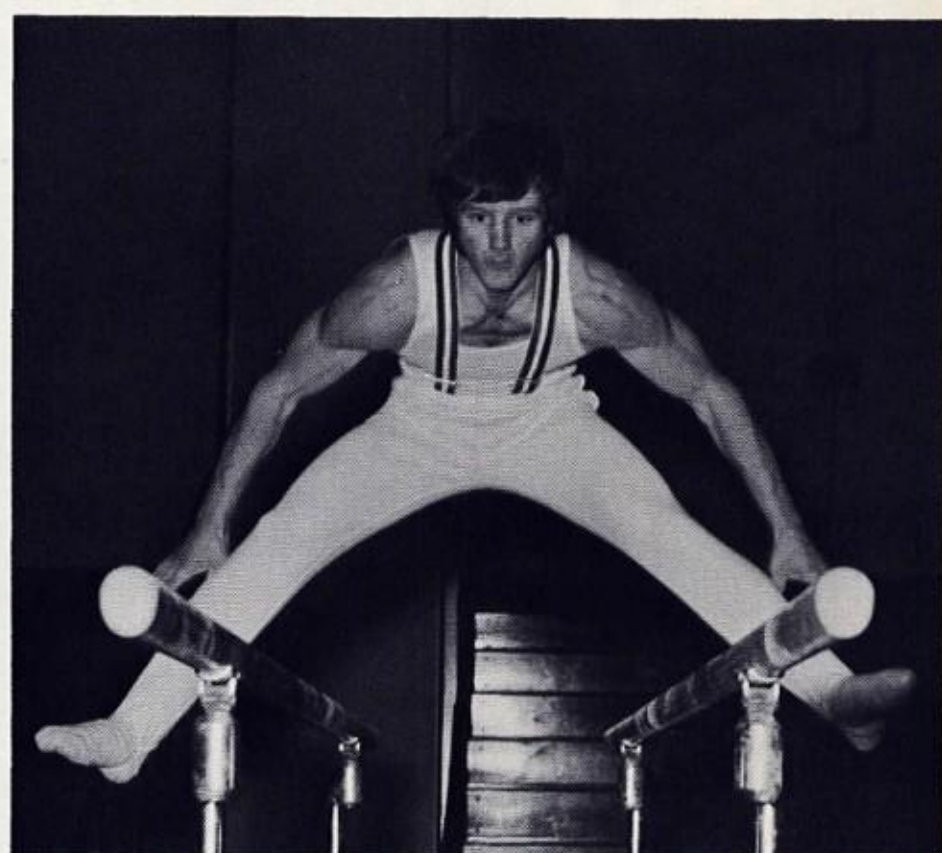

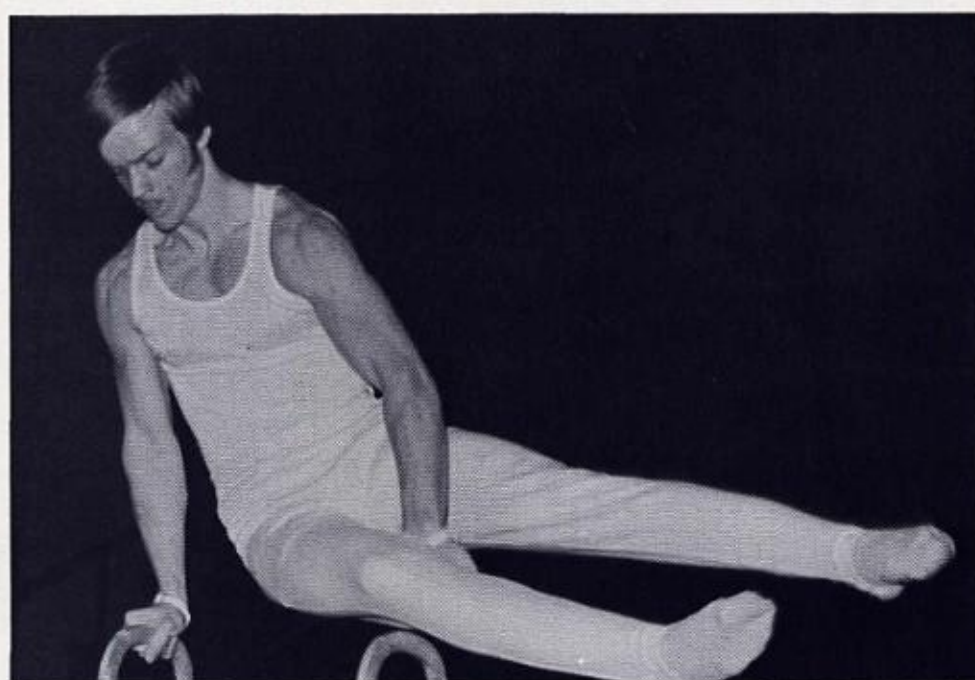

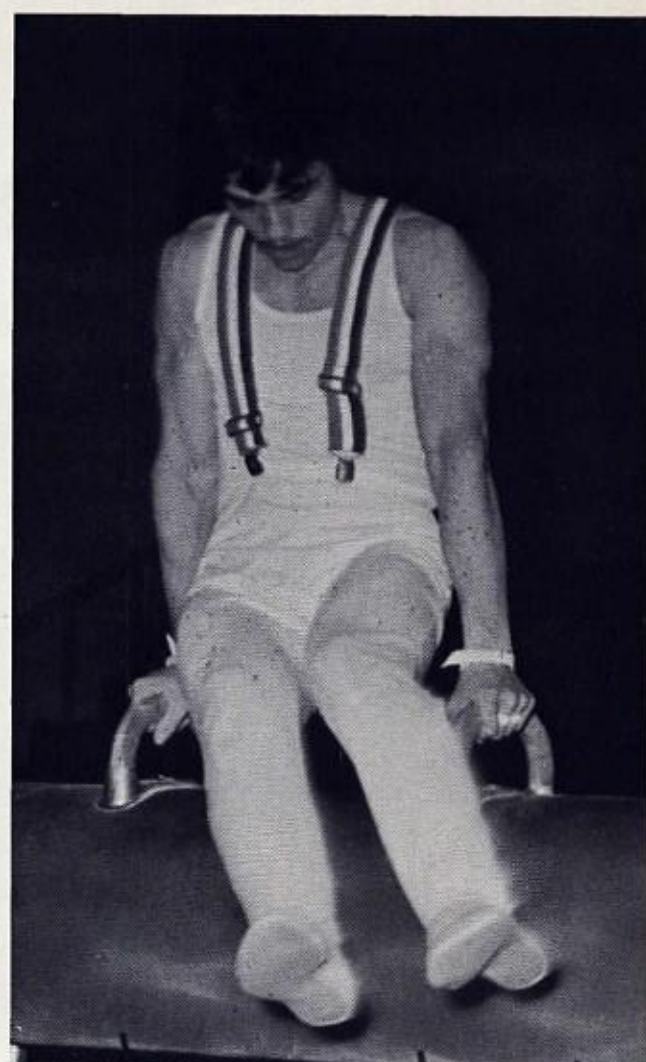

Walter J. Laff

Because of Mr. Bronstein's late retirement notice, we were also able to cover events not normally covered.

A black and white photograph of a tree trunk and its bare branches. The trunk is in the center, extending from the bottom towards the middle of the frame. It has a light-colored, possibly white or light grey, bark with some darker spots. The branches are dark and intricate, spreading out in all directions, filling the upper two-thirds of the image. The background is a pale, uniform sky. The overall tone is somber and quiet.

IN MEMORY OF

DANIEL MOORE

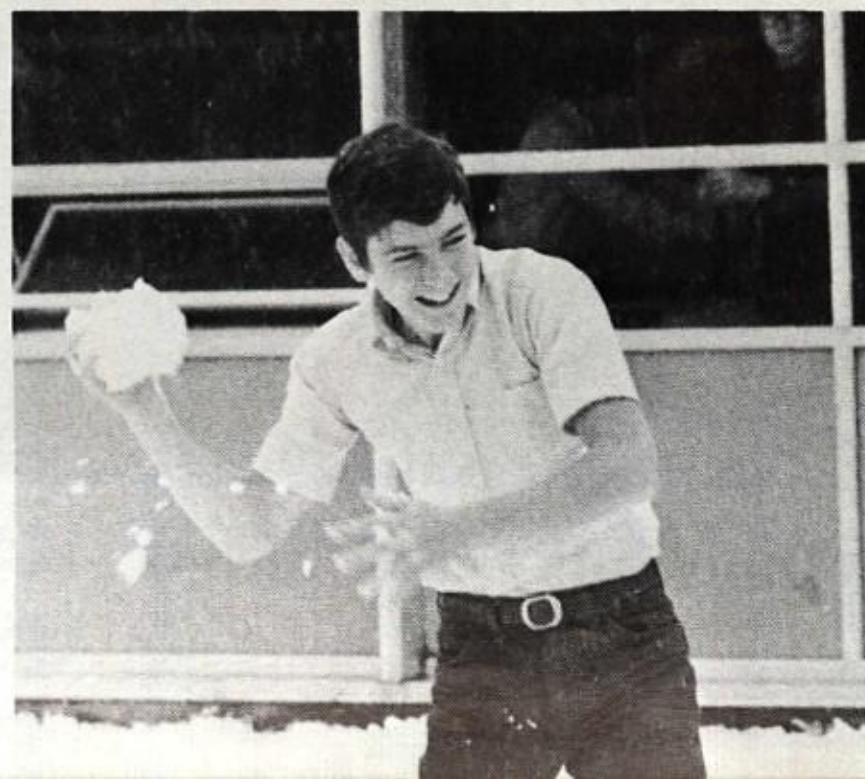

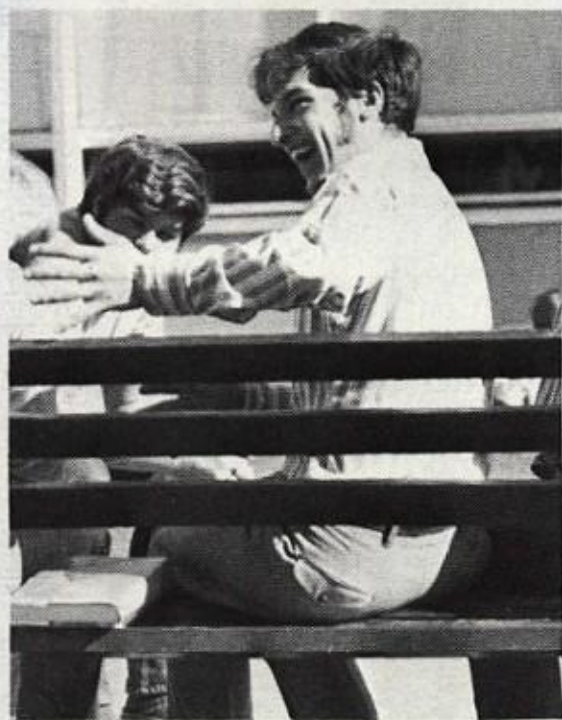

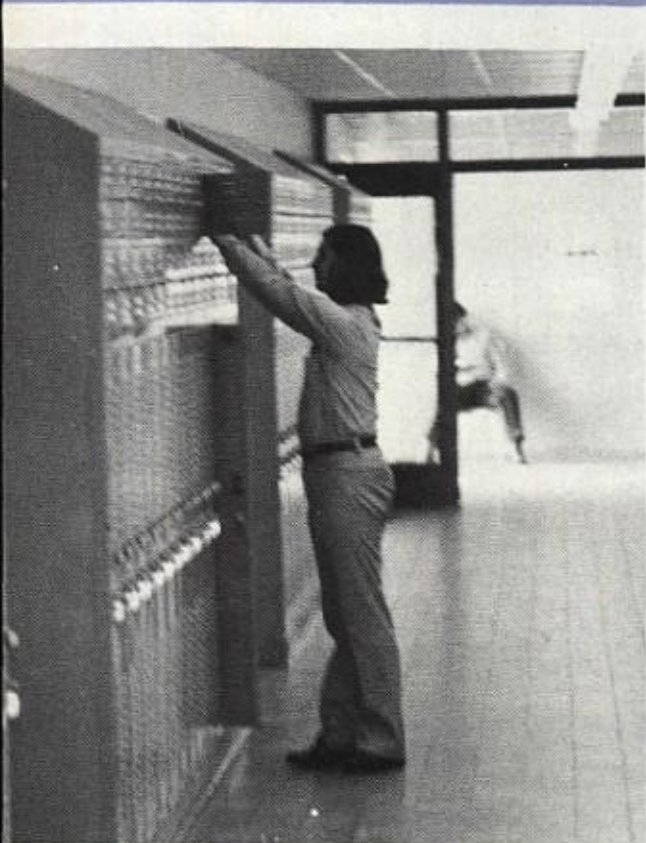

Death be not proud, though some have called thee
Mighty and dreadfull, for, thou art not soe,
For, those, whom thou think'st, thou dost overthrow,
Die not, poore death, nor yet canst thou kill mee.
From rest and sleepe, which but thy pictures bee,
Much pleasure, then from thee, much more must flow,
And soonest our best men with thee doe goe,
Rest of their bones, and soules deliverie.
Thou art slave to Fate, Chance, kings, and desperate men,
And dost with poyson, warre, and sicknesse dwell,
And poppie, or charmes can make us sleepe as well,
And better than thy stroake; why swell'st thou then?
One short sleepe past, wee wake eternally,
And death shall be no more; death, thou shalt die.

"WHAT'S ECOLOGY?"

"Ecology is really a dynamic realization, an awakening to processes older than reason. It is a sort of "state of mind" a recognition of the interrelatedness of all things. This "state of mind" this sensitivity to the fact that everything is interconnected, will eventually spread through all levels of thought and action: politics, business, medicine, the arts and education."

"Ecology in a very sneaky and sinister way, is anti-capital and anticivilization. A lot of people do not realize this — they are just out there starting to clean up the environment because it obviously is unpleasant — even deadly to some. But fully accomplished, their goal spells out the end of the idea of production which is the traditional idea of progress!"

"We have to assume the burden of making things that will be beneficial to the environment when discarded. We have to move into a realm of cycling things — make man and his civilization part of a system where materials move through our levels of existence out the other end, and back into the environment to make new materials."

Eric Matlen

"Had he and I but met
By some old ancient inn,
We should have set us down to wet
Right many a nipperkin!

"But ranged as infantry,
And staring face to face,
I shot at him as he at me,
And killed him in his place.

"I shot him dead because—
Because he was my foe,

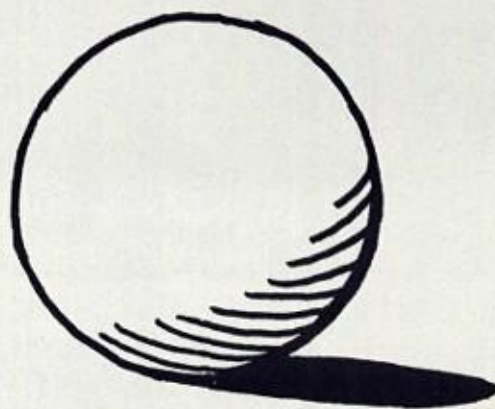

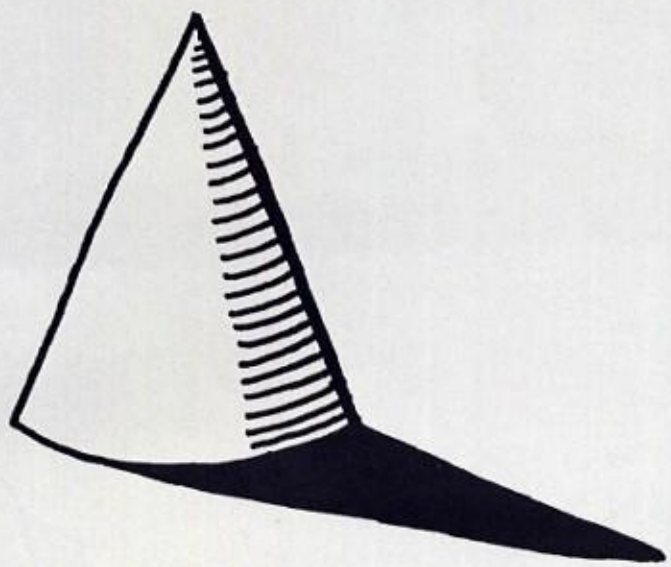

Just so: my foe of course he was;
That's clear enough; although

"He thought he'd list, perhaps,
Off-hand like just as I—
Was out of work—had sold his traps—
No other reason why.

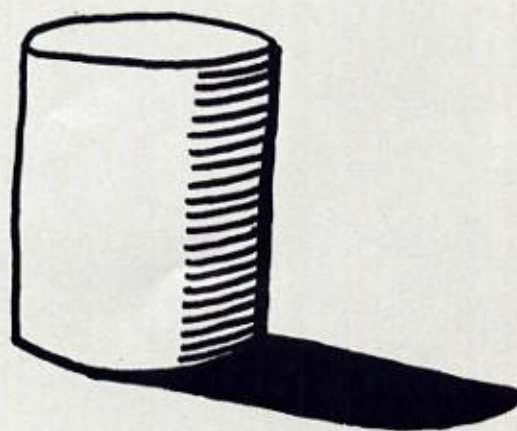

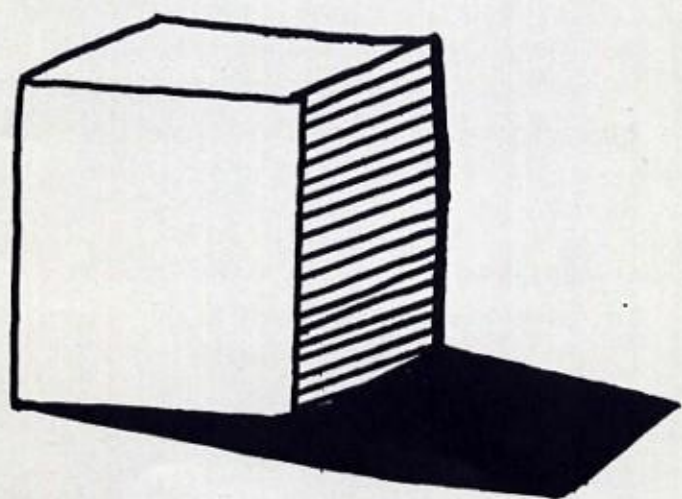

"Yes; quaint and curious war is!
You shoot a fellow down
You'd treat, if met where any bar is,
Or help to half a crown."

Thomas Hardy

FACULTY

Dedication

The EXCALIBUR dedication is not an easy task. This year's dedication is to a member of the English Department. Besides the duties of his regular senior English classes, he has been assigned to teach this school's only advanced placement English course.

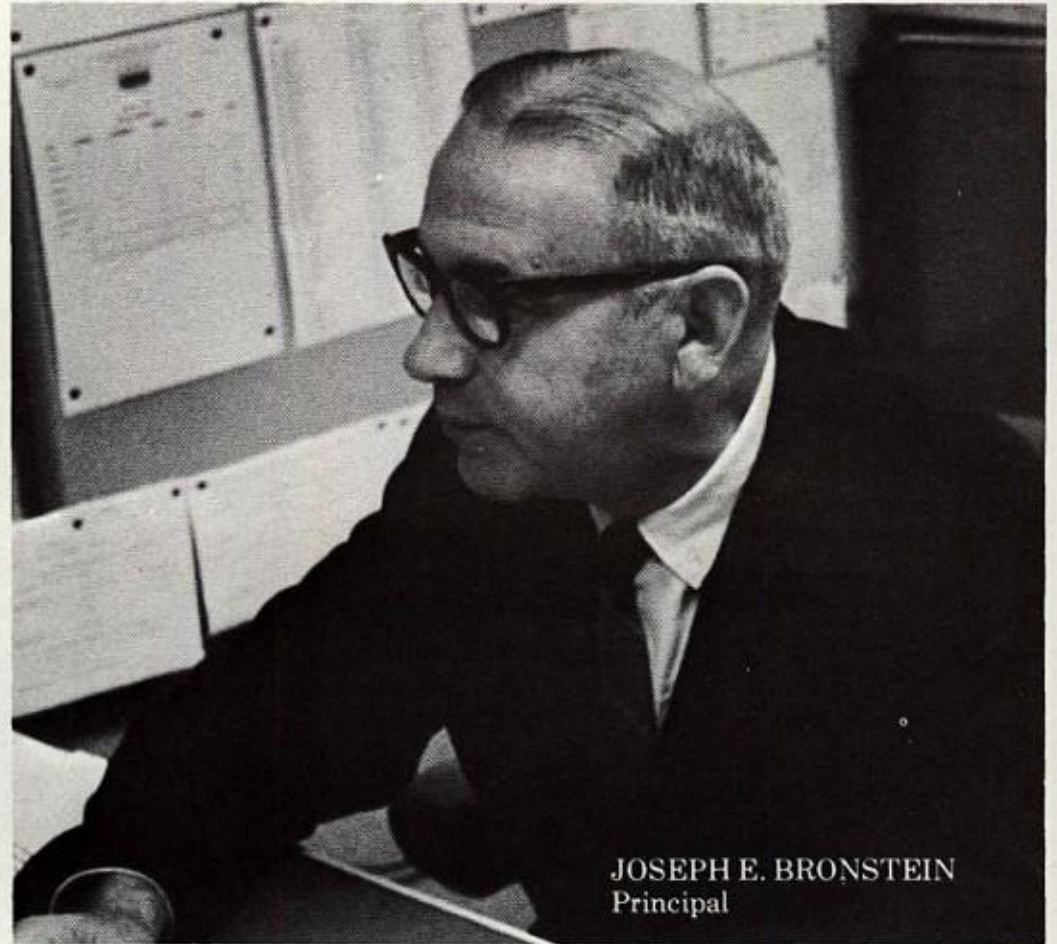

Through his exhaustive efforts, many new and enjoyable programs have been innovated. Most of them are through the sponsorship of the Assembly Committee, of which he is the advisor. One should realize that the organization of the many diversified assemblies, including pep rallies takes much time. But his efforts do not end here. The movies, purchased by the Assembly Committee, have now become a regular part of the school schedule. Perhaps the newest, and most entertaining type of assembly which he has been responsible for is the annual folk assembly.

The class of 1972, takes pride in dedicating the EXCALIBUR to James R. Hammond.

Class History

As we entered Memorial four years ago, we were uneducated spiritually, mentally, and in our hearts. But since that time, we have come to know many things. Discoveries came from books. Amazing stories, "The Great Mollasses Crisis", and sad stories of Biafra pierced our apathetic being. We learned to comfort others in their losses and to rejoice with them in happy times. We learned that teachers were human. They became our friends — not just our superiors.

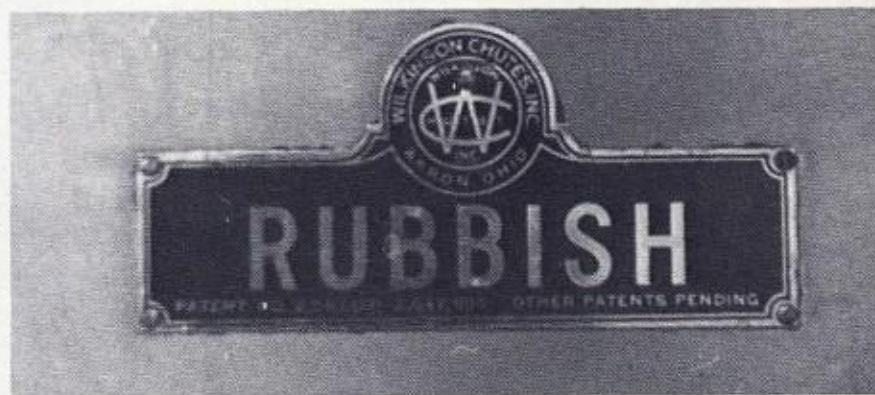

We learned to live ...

Unsatisfied with what we first encountered here at Memorial, we joined in the upheaval of change. The Barnacle, an underground newspaper, developed by upperclassmen, proved to be a good place to reveal our more controversial thoughts.

Since one cannot live without food, we began to think of ourselves as connoisseurs of fine food. Cafeteria eating was not full-filling our desires. A boycott was organized and "brown bagging" became the style. When sandwiches became boring, we returned to eating hot lunches but our taste buds were still screaming. President Nixon and Vice-President Agnew entered office. While some looked on with speculation, we were willing to wait and give them a chance in hopes of once again uniting the nation.

The opening of school was our biggest worry at the start of our Sophomore year. The teachers went on strike, and we had two first days of school. For the first time, Memorial High School hit national television.

Sports reached their highest this year. Winning the triple crown was great. Highlighting this year, we handed Central a football defeat and won our first of two consecutive State Basketball Championships.

Some of us were shocked with the rumor of Paul McCartney's death. But to save the tears of millions, Paul showed up in front of the cameras and proclaimed that he was alive and well.

WIN IT FOR HUBIE

As the end of the year approached and the weather became warmer, the desire to turn to jeans and things caused Memorial's greatest turmoil. The dress code had been altered to allow girls to wear slacks during the cold winter months. The males of the school were calling for equal time. A vote was conducted by the Student Council. The result . . . our dress code was abolished.

The pictures from My Lai both horrified and shocked the American public. Once again we began to ask ourselves if it was worth it. But even more now we were wondering what kind of people this war would mold us into.

Ted Kennedy drove over a bridge this summer. At the same time, in some people's eyes, he committed political suicide.

Returning as upperclassmen gave us a feeling of power.

Death was prevelant in our lives. A title wave caused many people to die and many others to become homeless in Pakistan. Two of the most admired rock stars were gone. Jimi Hendrix and Janis Joplin had died from overdoses. Students were shot and killed at Kent State during demonstrations.

But not all of our junior year was overshadowed with darkness. Eighteen year olds acquired the vote. Political campaigns no longer seemed so remote.

Our time periods were changed from 1-7 to A-J.

The hockey sport began to grow. Last year's Stanley Cup championship ignited the spirit of Memorial's own team as they went on to capture their first of two Southern New Hampshire Hockey League Championships.

The year ended with our junior prom. For most of us it was the first time we donned formal wear. In spite of trying not to step on our gowns and struggling with suspenders, the night turned out to be one we will never forget.

The first days of our senior year brought a jolt to some of us. Faces so familiar from the past three years were missing. We were the seniors, the rulers of the school. No longer was there anybody older or mightier to look up to. There was just each other.

We brightened as football season opened. The team whizzed through an undefeated season. Wrapping up the year, our champs defeated Trinity in the midst of one of the season's worst blizzards.

MacDonald's grew but was challenged by Burger King.

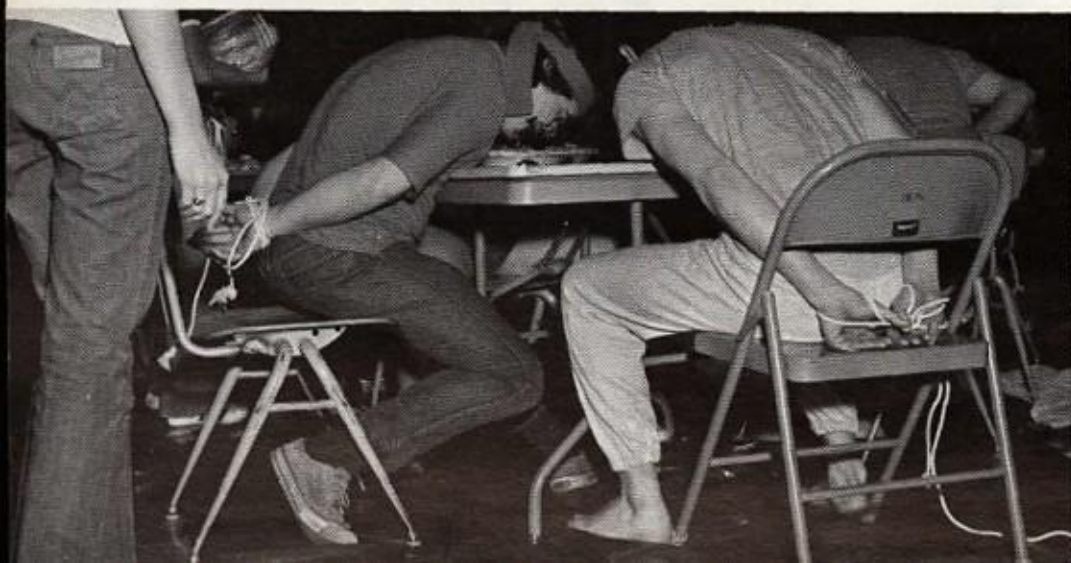

Candidates for the 1972 Presidential election swooned down upon Memorial. Students were given the chance to ask them the questions that were most pertinent and important to their lives.

Applications to colleges were rushed out. Our minds became flooded with thoughts and plans for the future.

The time came for cap and gown measurements and senior singing. Homework and other school projects dwindled while plans for the banquet, prom and finally, graduation, grew.

These plans became reality and our time was at hand. We looked back on our four years. A maze of happy and sad times, of success and failure, and of smiles and tears formed a picture that will never fade . . .

Championship Team Football

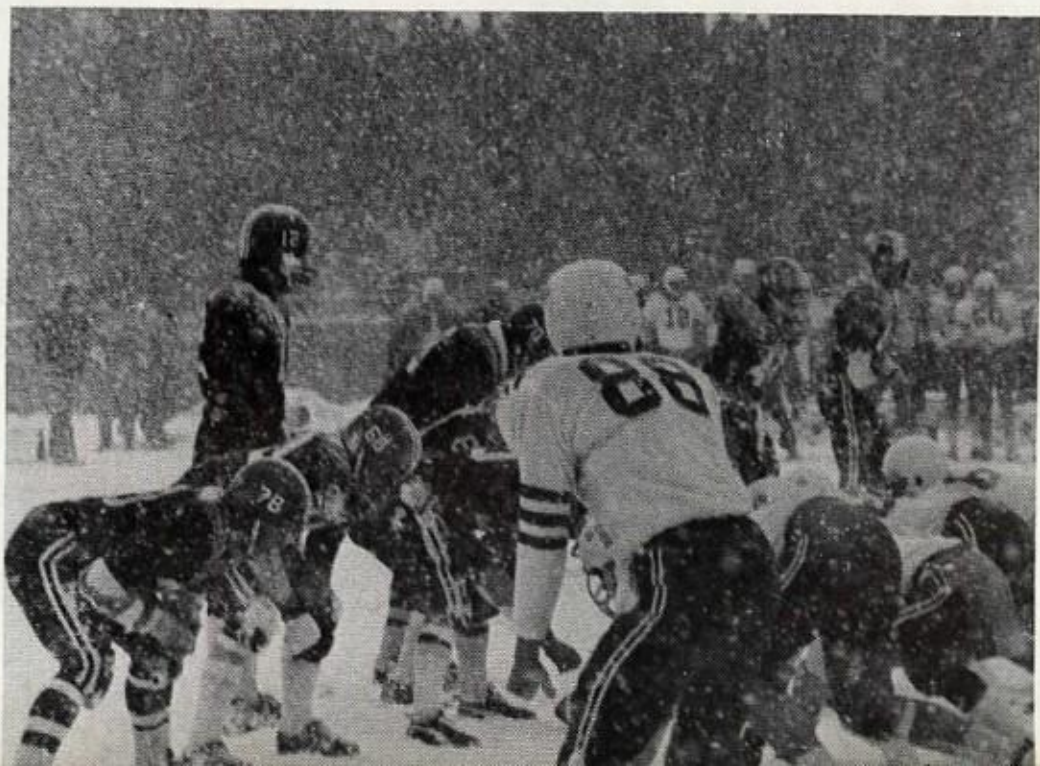

Thanksgiving Day, 1971 "will live in infamy" as far as Memorial High Football is concerned. Not so much for the storm, nor the half time show which featured a half-dozen plows, not even the 12-6 game itself, but more for the record that was set on that day.

The Crusader's unblemished record of 10 wins, no losses and no ties surmounts all previous marks. No longer will the 9-0-0 team of '65 be under the spotlight, because a new star has come upon the scene.

This year's squad has all too often heard the story of the team of '65. Yet '71 was a great year too.

Plaudits must go to both coaches for doing an excellent job. Coaches Bob Chabot and Hubie McDonough will have to put their game plans back into hiding until next fall.

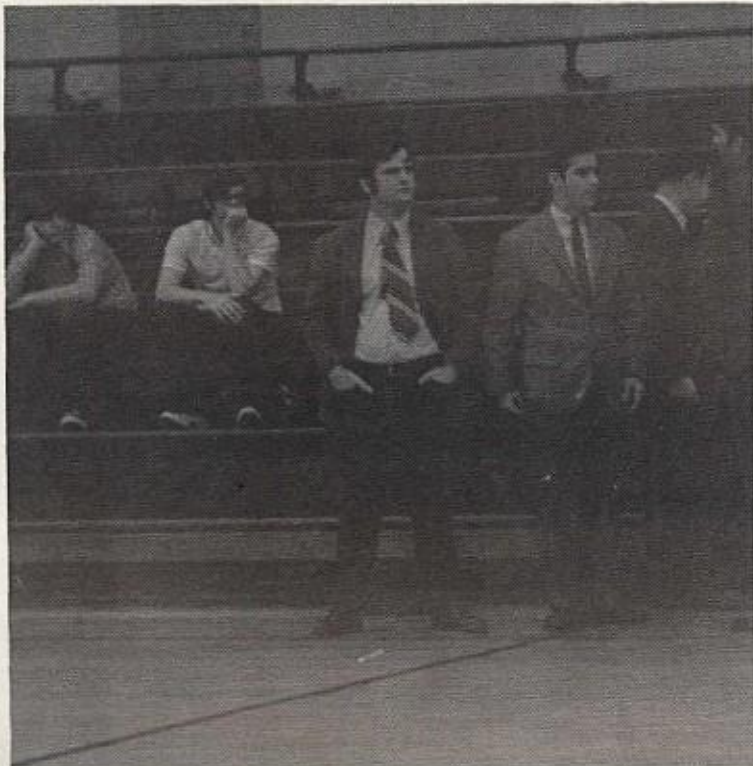

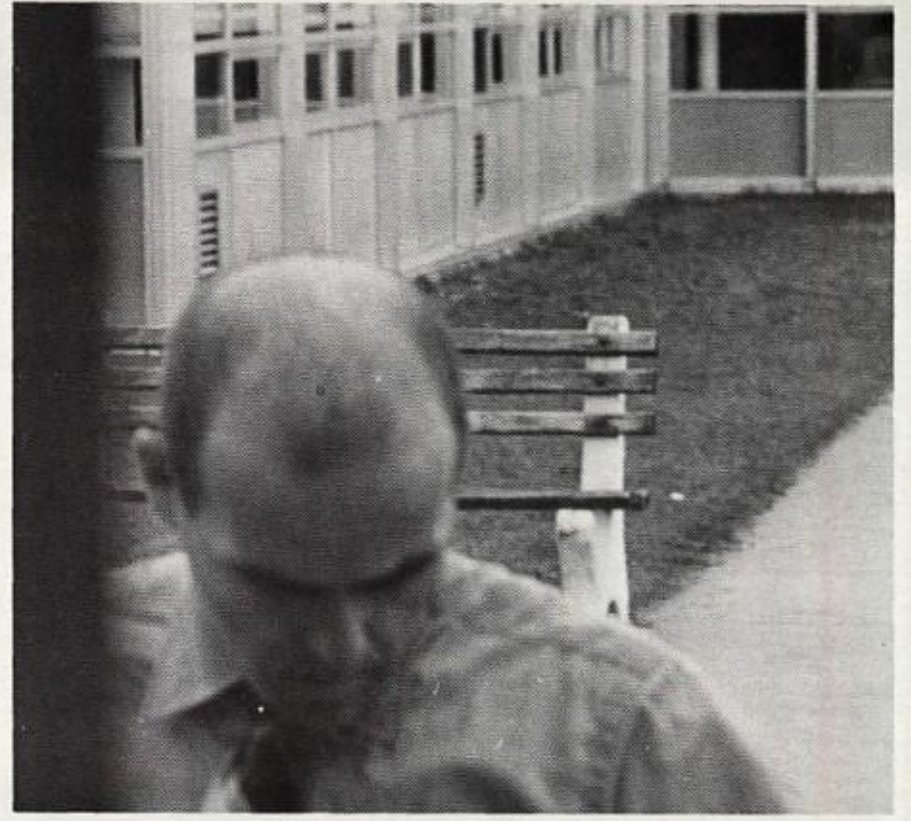

Championship Team Hockey

The class of '72 had a great deal to do with the fantastic record achieved by this year's hockey team. Seniors Jerry Gagnon, Dick Proulx, Paul Martel, Gary Gendron, Steve Beaurivage, and Tom Croasdale helped Memorial win the City Title and the Southern New Hampshire League Championship. Memorial became runner up in the state tourney, and, for the first time, participated in the New England Tournament.

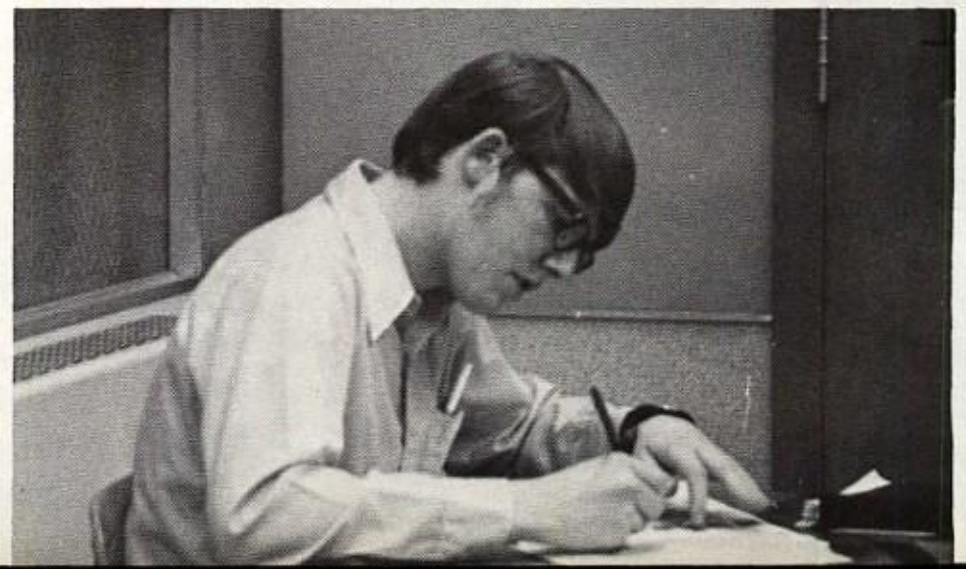

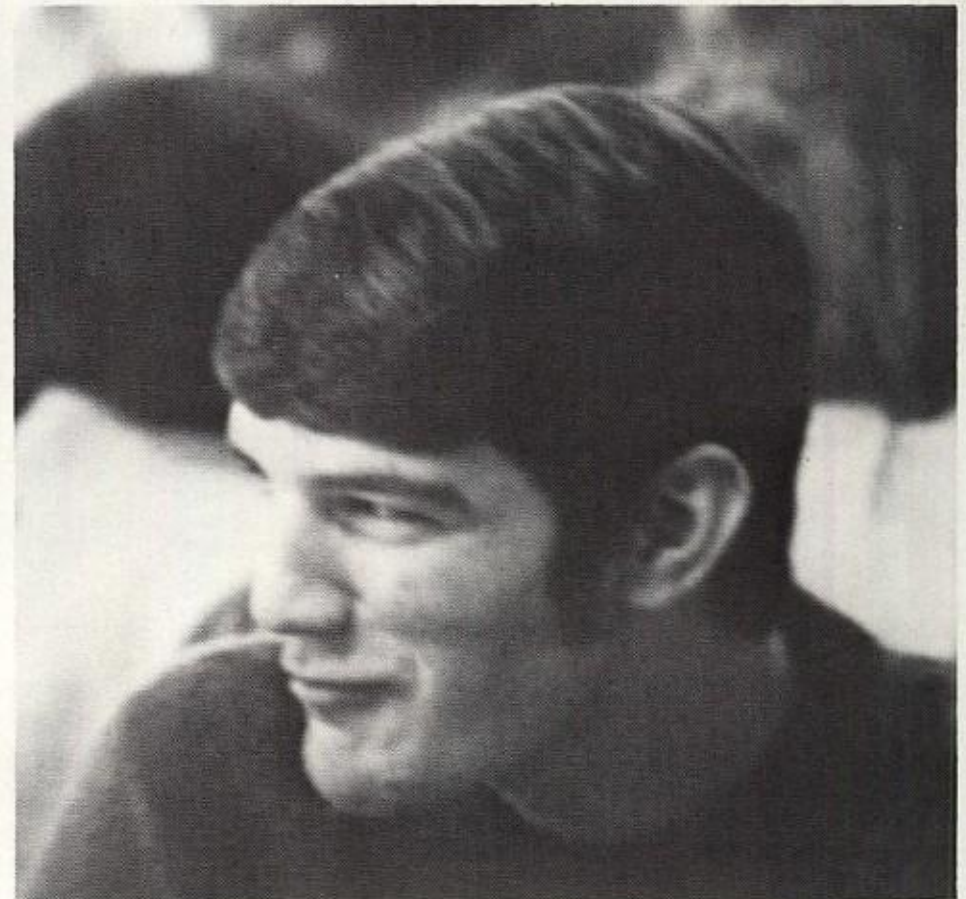

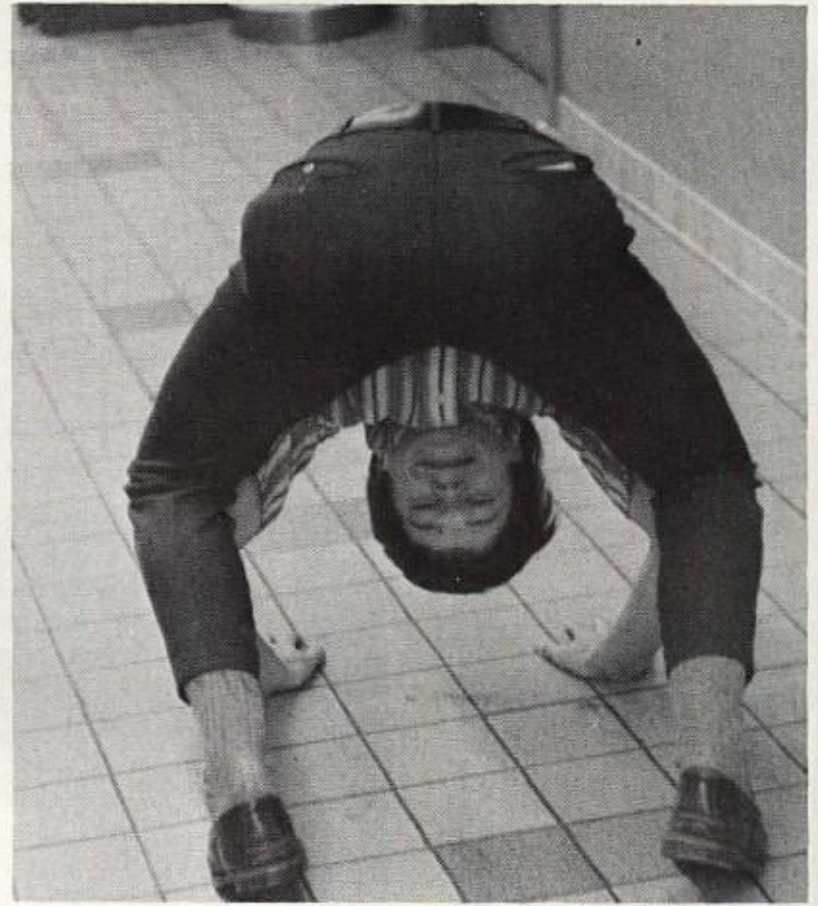

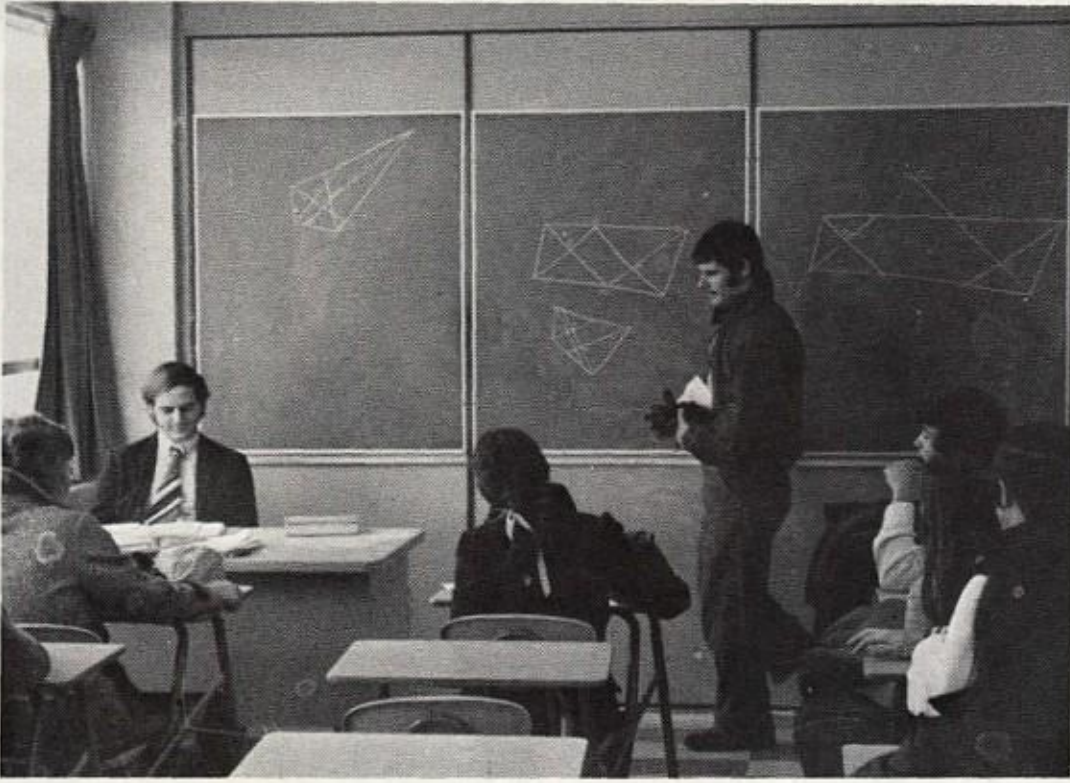

Underclassmen who will be returning next year to try to duplicate some of this year's records include Dave Croasdale, John Corriveau, Guy Croasdale, Marcel Gagnon, Kono Nolet, Wax Johnson, Billy Rogers, Bernie Martel, Bob dePinquertaine.

CLASS ODE

Lyric by Wendy Webster

Music by
Susan Dearborn

The musical score is written for a piano and voice. It consists of four systems of music. The first system is in 3/4 time, with a treble and bass clef. The melody is in the treble clef, and the bass line is in the bass clef. The key signature has one sharp (F#). The second system continues the melody and bass line. The third system continues the melody and bass line. The fourth system continues the melody and bass line, ending with a double bar line. The music is written in a simple, accessible style, suitable for a classroom performance.

As we ponder past encounters,
Unaware of future trials,
Wond'ring where life's path will lead us,
Yet unfaltering in our aim.

Recalling now what lies behind us,
How our lives took shape and form;
Goals we strove for, how we reached them,
Guiding hands that showed the way.

Time draws near for final parting
First a pause for smiles through tears,
Now turn bravely to the future,
Set our course by the brightest star.

Do you want your son to grow up to be a shake man?

Shake man. Window man. Wrap man. Grill man. Bun man. These are some of the jobs filled by the 21-thousand high school and college men who work full or part-time for McDonald's. Working as a skilled team, these young men make and sell an incredible nearly 2 million hamburgers every day, not to mention shakes and fish sandwiches and orders of French Fries numbering in the hundreds of thousands.

We don't know if the skills learned by the young men will help them become better doctors and lawyers—although their association with McDonald's certainly has some bearing on their ability to pursue professional careers in the first place. The fact may be that a good bun man makes a better doctor than a non-bun man. Who knows? Then again, maybe some of the young men will become McDonald's operators, even owners. Whatever happens, it's a leadpipe cinch that being able to make a good hamburger never hurt anyone.

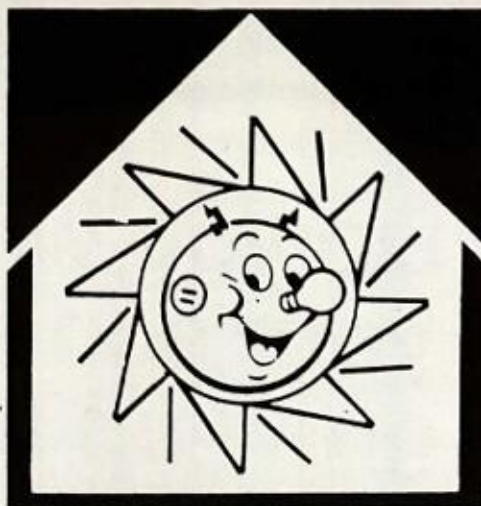

McDonald's is your kind of place.

Debbie -
To a nice kid who sat next to me in terrible '209' study. Believe it or not, we lived through it, right?
Best of luck this year and in all the years to come
A.F.A.
Joanne.

[Faint, illegible handwritten text in red ink, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.]

Debbie,
 Can you believe
 we'll really be Juniors?
 I can't! I still remember the first day we even stepped into 108 as freshmen... wow, was that different! (School yrs.) Yep it was 69'-70' 3 yrs. ago? Well, what can I
 & we're entering 72'-73'! Well, what can I say? Good luck throughout your future & I'll see you next year!!! Love & Peace,
 A.F.A. Dennis!

Debbie
 Is a quiet kid.
 Have friends?
 Mr. Baker

Debbie,
 I hope you have loads of fun
 this summer and stay out of trouble so I'll see you next year. Say hi to John for me too.
